

Some lumps are nothing to be worried about. But some are very worrisome. A Veterinary Oncologist has made it her life's mission to help pet owners realize that they can extend their pet's lives by getting lumps checked when they are small, and routinely thereafter. See more from Dr. Sue the Cancer Vet here (<https://drsuecancervet.com/why-wait-aspirate/>)